For more information or to access the platform, visit the official Shodh-Chakra website: <https://shodhchakra.inflibnet.ac.in/>

Shodh-Chakra is a digital research management platform developed by the Information and Library Network (INFLIBNET) Centre under the guidance of the University Grants Commission (UGC). It is designed to assist researchers, supervisors, and universities in managing the entire research lifecycle.

Key Features of Shodh-Chakra

- Researcher Support: Provides tools for profile management, literature review assistance, reference management, and thesis submission.
- Supervisor Dashboard: Enables supervisors to track research progress, manage profiles, and interact with researchers.
- University Oversight: Offers dashboards for universities to monitor research activities, manage communications, and generate reports.
- Resource Access: Grants access to over 3.5 lakh full-text theses and integrates with databases like Shodhganga, Google Scholar, IRINS, and Crossref.
- Personalized Library: Allows researchers to collect, organize, and manage scholarly resources in a personalized space called "My Library".

Author of the Month

Jiddu Krishnamurti

Jiddu Krishnamurti (1895–1986) was an Indian philosopher, speaker, and writer renowned for his teachings on psychological revolution, the nature of the mind, meditation, and freedom from conditioned thinking. Born in Madanapalle, Andhra Pradesh, he was discovered in his youth by leaders of the Theosophical Society, who believed he was a "World Teacher." However, in 1929, Krishnamurti famously dissolved the organization formed around him, rejecting all religious and spiritual authority.

He spent his life travelling the world, giving public talks and private dialogues on self-inquiry and inner transformation. Krishnamurti emphasized observation without judgment and the importance of understanding the self.
